

AS SEEN IN

MODERN LUXURY

Interiors

CALIFORNIA

SPECIAL PROMOTION

CALIFORNIA FACES OF DESIGN

JASON GONTERMAN

The success of any home remodel or new construction relies wholly on the meeting between form and function – on design aesthetics, balanced with the right features. Over the course of two decades, Jason Gonterman has fully understood this notion. Over twenty years in, and this belief have been the driving forces behind Gonterman Construction, an Orange County luxury custom home builder and remodeling firm with a long and illustrious list of clientele. “When it comes down to it, interior design is not simply about beautiful aesthetics, trends or color palettes. As both a design and build firm, I fully embrace how design and functionality should learn on one another. Key to this is a single contact from beginning to end, it means that I truly get to know my client – the way they live, and the ways in which their surroundings can improve their lifestyle.”

High-quality design-build firms offer many compelling benefits when remodeling or building a new home, and yet the flexibility to incorporate your own contacts is often demanded by clients who need to pick and mix their choice of professionals. Jason and his own team work tirelessly alongside many other industry professionals, who may include clients architects, builders and interior designers.

“I appreciate just what it can take to entrust your aspirations for your new home to a team of people, which is why we take exceptional care to ensure every project is treated just like one of our own. This care and diligence extends to our fellow professionals, who are equally chosen for their very unique skills in the marketplace.”

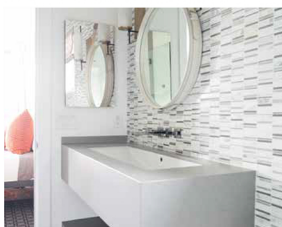

Southern California provides for fertile ground for creative design directions. The weather, stunning coastline and superior homes that line the polished streets of this region should each influence a design-build project. “In beautiful Orange County, it is perhaps the merging between the outdoors and the indoors that our team most enjoy – perfecting indoor spaces that unite with the outdoors has become somewhat of a signature of the Gonterman name.”

Explore the difference a single, specialist firm makes to the many challenges of remodeling. Speak with Jason and his team, and discover just what has led to their twenty years of success in this industry.

FOUNDER

GONTERMAN CONSTRUCTION
2043 WESTCLIFF DRIVE SUITE 215,
NEWPORT BEACH CA 92660 | 949.697.0746
GONTERMANCONSTRUCTION.COM

“Our clients are successful - they know exactly what they want. With their taste combined with our knowledge, we always strive to over-deliver on their vision.”