Q. Gonterman began two decades ago - what keeps you relevant?

A. As a full-service design build firm, we offer all services from start to finish: from pain staking architectural plans and meticulous interior design direction, to completion. This all-in-one, turnkey solution ultimately delivers the best and most beautiful of homes, without exception.

Q. What's your tip for clients working with design/build professionals?

A. Communication - you can have the most talented of teams at your fingertips, but without concise communication, even the simplest of projects will fail. As the executive liaison, I ensure 360 degree communication with clients and contractors- maintaining that no detail slips through the cracks.

Q. You've established quite the reputation - what's the secret?

A. The full-service design build approach is certainly one that eases our clients' minds, yet is far past convenience, it is quality of craftsmanship and design that ensures we create stunning, tailored results -to the most exacting of client briefs- every, single, time.

Q. What's the most compelling reason to use a design-build firm?

A. From architectural plans, permits, building and interior design, the same team is with you, every step of the way- understanding your visions, the way you live, and what truly represents your dreamlike living space.

Q. What style would you say is ever present for your clients?

A. In a phrase cutting-edge, live-in modern luxury. However, given that Orange County, Los Angeles and San Diego nestle the shore line, we often work water into key areas, creating indoor spaces that seamlessly extend to outdoor living.

Q. What interior trends are you most excited about right now?

A. The art deco revival is extremely interesting, yet the real art in our industry lies in creating something timeless - a design that encapsulates stunning, current trends, but that transcends them for the future. It's a challenge - and we embrace it.

Q. What advice would you give to someone who's ready to custom build?

A. Consider the way in which you live, and the way in which you wish to. Consider how you entertain, relax and dine, think about every family member, and whether their needs differ. Above all else, be ambitious and be inspired.

Q. Does your firm only work with your in-house designer and/or architect?

A. Absolutely not, although we offer the convenience of a one stop solution in house, we frequently work hand-in-hand with fellow professionals. As a home building firm, no matter what outside experts we work with, from architects to interior designers, we always fit in seamlessly with them.

“Exceptional customer service is at the heart of our business and is felt at all stages.”
